

Sarah Huang (Non-Anli lawyer)

Regulated Canadian
Immigration Consultant

+1 902 213 8823
sarahxiaoyu Huang@outlook.com

Location:
Prince Edward Island
(Canada)

Language:
Chinese and English

Qualification:

Areas

Canadian immigration, PNP programs and work permit applications

Key Achievements

Sarah Huang is a dynamic professional whose journey is marked by a blend of academic excellence, diverse experiences, and an unwavering commitment to excellence, making her exceptionally suited for her new role as a paralegal in a law firm. Armed with a Master's degree in Teaching English as a Foreign Language (TEFL) from London Metropolitan University, Sarah embarked on a path that seamlessly integrated academia with practical application.

During her tenure at the Royal Danish Embassy in China, spanning from 2004 to 2014, Sarah served as a trusted assistant to consuls and a visa officer, adeptly navigating diplomatic intricacies while honing her skills in customer service and administrative proficiency. Her experience conducting legal research into case law, interviewing clients and witnesses, and providing support to attorneys further enhances her readiness for her new role. Sarah is also very experienced in handling immigration-related issues in various capacities and her previous experience working as a visa officer is of great help.

Transitioning to the private sector, Sarah demonstrated her adaptability and leadership capabilities within a Chinese company, excelling first as a diligent purchase manager and later as assistant to the CEO. Throughout her career, she has showcased not only her versatility but also her capacity for leadership, effectively navigating corporate complexities with grace and determination.

In 2021, Sarah achieved a significant milestone in her language proficiency, attaining remarkable CELPIP 9 and 9 plus across all domains. This accomplishment underscores her dedication to self-improvement and her commitment to effective communication, both of which are invaluable assets in her new role.

Beyond her impressive credentials, Sarah's true strength lies in her innate ability to connect with others. With exceptional communication skills and a genuine desire to exceed expectations, she approaches each interaction with warmth and sincerity, ready to go the extra mile to serve clients wit